ST JOACHIM AND ST ANNE, PARENTS OF OUR LADY

Wednesday 26th July was the memorial of St Joachim and St Anne, parents of Mary, Grandparents of Jesus. Please give thanks to God and pray for all Grandparents, living and deceased, for the gift of faith they have helped pass on to their children and grandchildren.

Here is a prayer composed by Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI for the Catholic Grandparents Association:

Lord Jesus, You were born of the Virgin Mary, the daughter of Saints Joachim and Anne. Look with love on Grandparents the world over. Protect them! They are a source of enrichment for Families, for the Church and for all of Society. Support them! As they grow older, may they continue to be for their families' strong pillars of Gospel faith, guardians of noble domestic ideals, living treasures of sound religious traditions. Make them teachers of wisdom and courage, that they may pass on to future generations the fruits of their mature human and spiritual experience.

Lord Jesus, help Families and Society to value the presence and roles of Grandparents. May they never be ignored or excluded, but always encounter respect and love. Help them to live serenely and to feel welcomed in all the years of life which You give them. Mary, Mother of all the living, keep Grandparents constantly in your care, accompany them on their earthly pilgrimage, and by your prayers, grant that all Families may one day be reunited in our heavenly homeland, where You await all humanity for the great embrace of life without end. Amen.

VERITATIS S P L E N D O R

In coming weeks we'll take a closer look at the official Vatican-released summary of St John Paul II's encyclical, Veritatis Splendor (The Splendour of Truth).

At the root of the dissent mentioned above, and of solutions which are at odds with Catholic doctrine, is the influence of currents of thought which ultimately separate the exercise of human freedom from its essential and constitutive relationship with truth. An extreme notion of the autonomy of freedom tends to make freedom into an absolute, a source of values, apart from any dependence on truth.

Certainly it must be acknowledged that such extreme positions are not found in Catholic theology. It must also be acknowledged that, in developing a more personalistic approach, Catholic theology has come to a renewed appreciation of the best of the classical doctrinal tradition regarding the value of personal responsibility and the role of reason and conscience in establishing moral obligation. Nevertheless, in certain instances, there has been a radical rethinking of the mutual roles of faith and reason in identifying moral norms which refer to specific "inner-worldly" kinds of behavior. There has been a tendency to assign to autonomous reason (quite apart from revelation, tradition and the magisterium, and even from an antecedent truth) the task of creatively establishing norms relative to the "human good."

Even more radically, the acceptance of a certain concept of autonomy has called into question the intrinsic connection between faith and morality. Faith, it must be said, is not merely an intellectual assent to certain abstract truths; it also possesses a moral content. Faith gives rise to and calls for a consistent life commitment; it entails and brings to perfection the keeping of the commandments. "Not everyone who says to me 'Lord, Lord' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven" (Matt. 7:21).
