Thought for the Week

is an integral part of our Christian Faith. How else can the Lord warn His people of their failures to keep His covenant of justice? But such a calling often results in the suffering, even the death, of the prophet and that is why many of us feel rather uneasy about these disturbing voices. We wish they would just go away, about these disturbing voices. We wish they would just go away, although we know in our hearts, that they are speaking the truth. We can recognize at a safe distance the courage of Archbishop Oscar Romero in El Salvador, meeting his death by a hired assassin because he spoken out on behalf of the poor people of his country. But when it comes closer to home, we feel nervous. For we know that prophets are not accepted in their own country. But that, of course, does not stop them.

World, in the Church, in our Country, or even in more domestic situations, when we know something should be done. Do we have the courage to be even a little bit prophetic over some issue of justice, or at least to open ourselves to listen to a prophetic voice? We may hesitate, for we know of the inevitable discomfort and change that it may bring. But how else will a society be healed unless a word is spoken? Ezekiel reminds us of God's calling; "Whether they listen or not, this set of rebels shall know there is a prophet among them".

Requiem for Margaret Dempsey in Holy Ghost Church on Thursday 9th July at 2.45 pm. Funeral Service for Thomas Byrne at the Crematorium on Friday 10th July at 3.30pm. May they rest in peace. We remember their families at this sad time.

SIGNIFICANT WEDDINGS

Last weekend, Bishop Philip celebrated Mass for 110 couples from across the Diocese who celebrated a Significant Wedding. This is an important event throughout the Diocese.

Once again Fr. Chris and the Parish hosted this event, (our seventh). However, this would simply not be possible without the immense amount of work and planning done by the Parish. We are a very unique parish, so a heartfelt word of thanks to all who contributed in any way to making it another successful Celebration here at St. Bede's.
